Central European University cordially invites you to attend a public lecture by the author, journalist, and scholar Kati Marton on the occasion of the new edition of her book on Raoul Wallenberg, during this Wallenberg Centennial Year.

“Wallenberg: Missing Hero”
(The Hungarian edition of the book is released on this same day)

Date: Wednesday, April 25, 2012
Time: 5:30 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.
Venue: Popper Room (CEU, Nador u. 9)

Welcome: John Shattuck, President and Rector
Remarks: Karin Olofsdotter, Ambassador of Sweden to Hungary

Born in Hungary, Kati Marton has combined a career as a reporter and writer with human rights advocacy. From 2003 to 2008 Marton chaired the International Women’s Health Coalition, a global leader in promoting and protecting the health and human rights of women and girls. From 2001 to July 2002 Kati Marton was Chief Advocate for the Office of the Special Representative for Children and Armed Conflict at the United Nations. From 2000 to 2011 she was a member of the board of Human Rights Watch. Marton is currently a director and formerly chair of the Committee to Protect Journalists. She also serves on the board of directors of the International Rescue Committee and the New America Foundation, a public policy think tank. She is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, P.E.N. International, and the Author’s Guild.
