The Department of Public Policy, the Center for Policy Studies and the International Federation of the Red Cross and Red Crescent engaged in a policy lab exercise to explore, how the economic crisis has impacted food and nutrition security and what responses are necessary to combat and meet the rising need in Europe and Central Asia. By presenting the current situation and addressing its causes as well as mitigating factors, we hope to move towards ideas on how to create resilient and food secure societies.

Policy Lab students extend their invitation to the IFRC as well as NGOs to hold a round-table event

On Friday, March 7th from 14.00 in room 001 at Nádor 13.