

CEU Invites Refugees to Audit its Master's Courses

Central European University invites refugees registered in Hungary to audit its Master's courses in the Fall term 2015. CEU is a graduate English-language research-intensive university focusing on the social sciences, humanities, public policy, law, business and mathematics. The University welcomes all interested students who are reasonably proficient in English to audit its courses.

Auditing means attending seminars and participating in class discussions. Exact requirements for each course should be discussed individually with the professors. MA classes are normally either 2 or 4 credits. Two credit classes involve one class of 100 minutes a week, 4 credit courses involve two classes of 100 minutes per week. Classes are usually held between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. on weekdays. A full schedule of courses are (or will be soon) available on department websites (please see contacts on the other side).

CLASSES BEGIN ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21.

The previous week (from Monday, September 14) is 'Zero Week', when many departments offer introductory lectures to their courses. Please contact department administrators if you wish to attend these. Zero Week schedules will also be available online.

To register, contact administrators listed on the other side.

PLEASE REGISTER BY SEPTEMBER 21.

GENERAL ENQUIRIES about auditing may be directed to ANDREA KATONA (katonaa@ceu.edu) or PREM KUMAR RAJARAM (rajaramp@ceu.edu).

For more information about specific courses and registration please contact the relevant department.
