

UNIVERSITY-WIDE COURSES

University-wide Courses (UWCs) represent a new initiative at CEU that aims to bring together faculty and students from across academic programs to explore a topic of common interest.

COMMON FEATURES OF UWCs

Faculty members from several departments have been involved in developing the syllabus of the courses.

Interdepartmental

Some courses deal with contemporary academic topics, some foster the research skills of our students, and others offer practical skills to support the students' future career.

Diverse

Courses are taught by several academic staff members, and in some cases external guest are also invited as lecturers.

Co-taught

All CEU students (including non-degree students) have the possibility to register for the courses they consider interesting or useful.*

Open to all CEU students

*In AY19/20 some courses can only be offered in Budapest without online availability. Please check the Course Hub for more details.

LOOK FOR

this year's University-wide Courses on CEU's Course Hub, where you can find all the courses offered at the university.

SELECT

the most interesting course and register for it in SITS during the regular registration period.

If your department did not cross-list the specific course, you can still take it!

University-wide Courses are part of CEU's Intellectual Themes Initiative. Find out more about the project at www.ceu.edu/uwc
