THE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY

CEU's School of Public Policy (SPP) is a global institution with students from almost 50 countries. It offers academic programs that support students to develop the skills they will need to identify, define and address compelling and emerging public policy problems. Our faculty include top researchers and practitioners with extensive experience in the not-for-profit, public and private sectors. Their expertise enriches the classes they teach on a wide range of public policy topics including development, human rights, media and governance.

QUICK FACT / SPP is home to two policy centers: the Center for Media, Data and Society, and the Shattuck Center on Conflict, Negotiation and Recovery that provide students with valuable opportunities to engage with practitioners and participate in projects; and to the Global Policy Academy that organizes certificate courses that are open primarily to policymakers.

CAREER PATH / SPP equips students with policy knowledge, analytical frameworks, qualitative and quantitative skills, and practical experiences to make a positive difference in the world. Our alumni work for intergovernmental organizations, private sector firms, leading non-profit and advocacy organizations, national agencies, governments and top universities.

ARCHIMEDES MUZENDA / ZIMBABWE

"The curriculum was one of the reasons I chose the School of Public Policy. The variety of elective courses has allowed me to tailor the program to my professional focus. The debates, policy simulations and discussions have taught me a lot about current and emerging policy issues. Working with students and faculty from all over the world, I have also learnt a great deal about different cultures and contexts. It feels like taking part in a global forum really."
